Originally working as a certified public accountant, Rob Myers soon found his passion lay elsewhere. In 1986, he went out on his own, establishing himself as a leading custom homebuilder in Atlanta.

Today, Myers Group/Colonnade Builders Guild builds some of the city's finest homes ITP "Inside The Perimeter" including Brookhaven, Buckhead and Chastain Park. Myers Group is also a member of the Builder Guild in the exclusive luxury community - The River Club, Suwanee.

"We have a passion for the lost art of fine home building," he says. "We build a limited number of truly custom homes each year in order to provide each family with hands-on attention to detail and a memorable home-building experience. We have the rare ability to look at property and work with award-winning architects to design the right home for that particular home site. Most importantly, we recognize the sophisticated buyers of today are looking for the value equation: location plus quality plus reputation. We provide that."
